

Bradford School Immunisation Team (HPV) Human papilloma virus Vaccine update

14TH June 2023

Coming to Bradford soon is a campaign to encourage children and young people to come forward and have their HPV vaccine. Information will be displayed on buses, digital boards, and the radio.

What is HPV and why should I have it?

Human papilloma virus is also known as HPV. HPV is a common virus lots of people get.

There are different types of HPV infections that can cause different symptoms like warts on your genitals or cancer.

Having HPV means you are more likely to get some types of cancers like:

- cervical cancer (this is a cancer in the lower part of the womb)
- some mouth and throat cancers
- some cancers in the bum and genital areas

The HPV vaccine helps to stop you getting the HPV virus.
